GIRL WORK MEN!

NOTES and STUFF

Always knew a JJC boy was better than a bloodhound. Ask Paul Caron if you don't believe us.

Those discussions in Doc Keenan's Ec3 class sure are spirited. Smith, Crowell, Higgins and co. really get het up. Lots of fun and mighty interesting, too.

What happened to our foe, the NEWSANCE, last week?

Last Friday morning, a group of 70 students from the Junior College headed for South Portland to join in the search for little Stevie Hart, five-year-old who had been lost in the woods since the previous afternoon. An hour after they reached S. Portland, the boys had found little Stevie. Those are the bare facts of the case and since all our local means of communication have covered it so well, (continued on page 24)

and

SLUGS

By GEORGE LINSKOTT**

A plug to all the students who joined in the search for little Stevie last Friday and especially for the boys fortunate enough to find the little guy.

A slug to the guys who
don't CLEAN YOUR TABLE.
So you're tired of hearing about it? Well, you'll hear it in this column until the situation gets better.

A great big plug to Tom Merrill, editor of the "STAG" for the tremendous amount of hard work that he has put in to make the yearbook a great success. Most of you would be amazed at all the work there is in getting a yearbook together.

A slug to the NEWSACE for last week's issue. Where was the NEWS, fellas?

A slug to those students who anore in class and keep the others awake. Sleep quietly if you can, please.
See you next week....

We didn't think that Messers.
Smith, Judie and Richards were running a combined woman's and children's page. We know that you can do better.

While on the subject of the NEWSACE, we noticed that they copied us in our use of color.
Imitation is the sincerest form
of flattery.

Let's do better on our project to keep the talk clean.
Mr. Goff hit the nail squarely on the head when he said in his class Monday, "There is too much talk and not enough conversation". How true.

Mogul finally shaved it off.

It's a good thing he did before he found that boy. He would have scared him even more than he was if he still had that beard.

GREAT WORK MEN....

(cont'd from page 1)
there is no need of our going into detail on the story.
However, the R/C would like to thank all the students who participated in the hunt.

Those who made it possible for the men to go should be given thanks also.

One of the students put it aptly (himself a father), "If it were my boy, I would surely want someone to help me look for him".

So once again the BAG says
we were proud of all you boys who did so well and who not only succeeded in finding a lost child but got PJC on every newspaper in the nation;
every radio station and tv
carried it too. WELL DONE!

ODDS and ENDS by RLM

The PJC Radio Club has done a fabulous job in the way they have presented the views and news of the Campus.

The responsibility for the success of this club is with: Frank Moore, Don Gatti, Winch Barber, Fred Hinxman, and Norm Luce. Don't forget to listen every Tues. Eve. at 7:15 on WGAN.

The Outing Club reminds you that it will not be too long before the 1st organized "fishing trip."

L.B. wished to remind the Student Council, that he would like to see the ping-pong tables that he made, be painted.

An impromptu "fishin' trip" is scheduled for this weekend at Dyke Mountain. Anyone interested in going should contact Joe Murray.

Westbrook Jr. College is the place to meet the "COMBO" that is to play for the Jazz Club tonight Wed. March 30. Some of these "boys" have played with such notable Stan Kenton, Woodie Herman, and Count Basie. The time is 8:30 P.M. All the "cool cats" and "real gone bops" will be there, MAN!

TWO TEAMS UNDEFEATED

By Donald W. Linscott

At the start of the third round of the Intramural Basketball Tournament here at Portland Junior College there were only two teams undefeated. The Hungry Hounds and the Bath Indies are tied for first place with unblemished records. The first two rounds of the tournament were mixed with a combination of skillful played victories and unplayed victories. The tournament started Wednesday, the 23rd of March. The first game paired the Paper City Crew against the Circle K Club. The Paper City

Crew, which has on its squad four members of the varsity squad, took command of the game from the very beginning. The Paper City Crew won 54 to 38 but the Circle K's three platoon system made it pretty rough in the last half. The second game of the afternoon saw an under-manned, and I might add an under-nourished, News Team go down in defeat at the hands of the Hungry Hounds by a very, very, very close score of 84 to 26. If the News team hadn't been hot that day it might well have been a rout. Thursday the 24th of March saw the Bath Indies down the Davy Crocketts by a score of 57 to 32. The second game was the first of many forfeits. The Collegians were scheduled to play the Glow Boys but the Collegians didn't show up so the Glow Boys were given a victory by way of forfeit. Friday started the second round and both games were forfeited. The Paper City Crew forfeited to the Hungry Hounds and the News Department forfeited to the Circle K. This gave the Hungry Hounds a perfect record of 2 wins and 0 losses and gave the Circle K a 1 win and 1 loss record. The News Department was eliminated because this was their second loss. The Paper City Crew forfeited given them a 1 win and 1 loss record, which incidently is the same record as that of the Circle K a team that they had previously beaten. Monday the 28th of March had paired the Davy Crocketts against the Collegians and the Bath Indies against the Glow Boys. Neither team showed up for the first game which gave them both a forfeit and a loss. This double forfeit also eliminated both teams as they both had one loss before entering this game. This helped the Circle K for with both teams eliminated the Circle K had to be credited with a win. The second game of the afternoon saw the Bath Indies slip their smooth operating machine into overdrive and roll to an impressive 96 to 31 victory over the Glow Boys. This gave us two undefeated teams. Tuesday afternoon saw only one game and that was between the Bath Indies and the Hungry Hounds. This was after press time so we do not know the outcome of that game. This afternoon will see a very determined Paper City Crew matched against a badly beaten but revenge seeking team called the Glow Boys. The 2nd game pairs the Circle K with the winner of Tuesdays Hungry Hounds vs Bath Indies game and should prove to be very interesting.
